

N. Y. Physician To Tour Country In a Cozy Flat

"Auto Bungalow" Has Home Luxuries and All Camping Requirements.

Dr. J. G. Kempel of No. 251 West 15th Street expects to start in a few days in his new bungalow on a tour of New York State and then to Florida. The bungalow is a complete home on an auto-truck chassis, and was built by a New Rochelle auto-body builder at a cost of about $15,000. The physician calls it his "auto-bungalow."

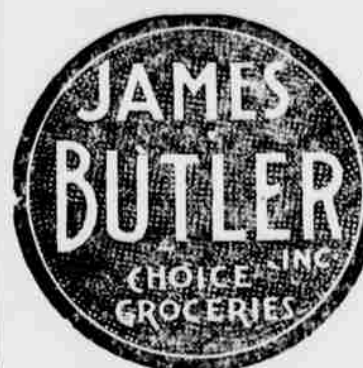

It consists of a one-story house, 18 feet long, 7½ feet wide, and 7 feet high, with a 3-foot back porch, and three rooms. The front room, or parlor, contains two large cushioned couches, the control, and a desk with a typewriter, phonograph and sewing machine. The middle room contains three large bunks, lockers and closets, and in the rear is a fully equipped kitchen, with sink and hand pump which draws water from large tanks under the chassis. There is also a washroom with shower bath. Under the bungalow are stowed a sectional boat with a motor, a collapsible canoe with latex sail, a bicycle, tool chest and fresh water tanks. There is also a flap awning which, attached to either side of the bungalow, makes a room 2x18 feet. Seven persons can sleep in the bungalow.
